Homebuilders Subgroup touring Airplane Plastics and Jim Hammond's New Standard Project

The homebuilders subgroup will be rendezvousing at Barnstormers Restaurant at KOSU airport to travel over to Tipp City and tour Airplane Plastics. This company makes canopies for many of the experimental aircraft you see including RVs. They are planning to blow a canopy and give us a grand tour.

Then we will drive down to Yellow Springs and visit Jim Hammond. Jim is restoring a Standard biplane and has many other neat restoration type projects laying around.

Don't miss this one folks—open to anyone who wants to go (RSVP by the 23rd). We meet at Barnstormers at 8:00am Saturday January 26th. The train leaves the station at 8:30am. For more information or to RSVP please contact Clare Lutton at wlutton@yahoo.com
